

Carole Foster Scholarship

The Carole Foster Scholarship is intended to provide financial support for undergraduate students participating in an international engineering co-op or internship during the summer and/or fall of each year. Spring applicants may be considered if funds are still available.

Carole J. Foster worked in the International Engineering Studies & Programs (IESP) office for many years. The former director of IESP, Merton Barry (now also deceased), created the international internship scholarship program in memory of her outstanding work with the students of the College of Engineering at UW-Madison.

Application deadline: Applications are due on the first Monday in May each year.

Scholarship Eligibility, Terms and Conditions

1. Current undergraduate students in the College of Engineering are eligible to apply; recent graduates are not eligible.
2. Students are not eligible to receive the scholarship in two consecutive academic years.
3. Candidates must return to UW-Madison to complete his/her degree program after the internship.
4. A minimum experience of eight (for summer) and ten weeks (semester) is required.
5. Position must be at least 32 hours per week.
6. Internship must be related to studies/academic area. Students participating on study abroad programs are not eligible to apply.
7. Recipients must be enrolled in CISI insurance through UW-Madison. Enrollment information will be provided by campus unit, or students can enroll independently through UW's Risk Management office.
